BY LIGHT TO PROVIDE COMMUNICATION SUPPORT TO HURRICANE RELIEF EFFORTS IN HAITI

By Light and Intelsat General working to bring satellite communications to first responders

ARLINGTON, VA, November 21, 2016 — By Light Professional IT Services Inc. has been awarded a three-month contract with the US Defense Logistics Agency (DLA), focused on bringing satellite communications to first-responders in Haiti's hurricane relief efforts. DLA provides the U.S. military and other federal agencies with a full spectrum of logistics, acquisition, and technical services.

By Light will be coupling their full-range engineering expertise with Intelsat General's Ku-band capacity on the Galaxy 18 satellite. Intelsat General provides secure and seamless broadband connectivity, video communications, and mobility services for mission-critical operations around the globe.

"As the world struggles to recover from the devastation left in hurricane Matthew's wake, we are determined to help in any way we can," said Mike Bowser, Senior Vice President of By Light. "With the support of Intelsat General, By Light's work with the Defense Logistics Agency is critical to providing first-responders with vital satellite communications while Haiti rebuilds its infrastructure."
